

SACRED IRELAND

May 31 - June 11, 2026 11 nights/12 days

With Patricia McGivern

Journey with me on a bonnie pilgrimage to some of the most powerful sacred sites in IRELAND. Experience the myth, magic, and mystery of the land as it blends into a beautiful tapestry of wonderment and soul deepening. These sites have been revered as sacred through the millennia and simply walking on the land will leave your spirit filled with wonder and awe. A Celtic saying states, “Heaven and Earth are only three feet apart, but in thin place’s the distance is even shorter.” Thin places await us along with fairies, ancient stones, St. Brigid, and more in this mystical land known as the Emerald Isle.

Highlights of what we’ll explore in IRELAND:

- The Book of Kells: An illuminated manuscript considered to be the world’s oldest and most famous book. It is Ireland’s treasure and an exquisite copy of the first four gospels completed in 800 AD.
- Newgrange: A 5,000-year-old (older than Stonehenge!) Neolithic passage tomb aligned with the rising sun at the Winter Solstice. It’s a place of spiritual, astrological and ceremonial importance.
- Hill of Tara: Once the ancient seat of power in Ireland. In ancient times it was considered a sacred place of dwelling for the gods—and entrance to the ‘Other World’ on the Summer Solstice.
- Giants Causeway: A UNESCO world heritage site. Legends say they were the stepping stones for a giant to get to Scotland.
- Dunluce Castle: A ruined medieval castle and the seat of Clan McDonnell.
- Poul nabrone Dolmen: A burial site or portal tomb dating to Neolithic time.
- Cliffs of Moher: Spectacular cliffs stretching 700 feet over the Atlantic coast. UNESCO site.
- St. Brigid’s Well: Considered a sacred well steeped in Pagan roots and known for its healing powers. She is the goddess of higher ground, higher healing and higher consciousness.
- Grange stone circle: The largest and oldest stone circle in Ireland.
- Blarney Castle: Druid cave, Witch’s Kitchen, Fairy Glade and Poison Garden.
- Kindred Spirits: A tribute to the Choctaw Indians who sent money to the Irish during the Potato Famine.
- Rock of Cashel: An ancient royal site of the kings of Muster and known as a place of power and mysticism since the 4th century.
- Kildare Cathedral: Resting place of St. Brigid.
- Glendalough: A Celtic spiritual site nestled in the Wicklow Mountains, its tranquil beauty envelopes you. This is indeed sacred ground. Many report feelings of joy, peace and love here.

BONUS: We will have a workshop on Celtic Spirituality and St Brigid in Kildare
